FOR SALE -- The old Upland College campus at San Antonio Ave. and Arrow Hwy. in Upland is reportedly up for sale, and the Boys' Club of Upland, now using part of the site, is worried about being evicted. Officials fear there is no other location large enough in Upland to accommodate the organization's expanding programs, and that the only answer may be to cut back.

Upland College For Sale

The old Upland College campus is reportedly up for sale, and the Boys' Club of Upland -- which occupies part of the site -- is ready to pack its bags and move on.

But like the Old Woman Who Lived in the Shoe, the club now has so many youngsters, it doesn't know what to do. There simply isn't any place in Upland for it to occupy comfortably, officials lament.

Contacted in the San Francisco headquarters, a spokesman for the Salvation Army, which owns the campus at San Antonio and Arrow Hwy., would neither confirm nor deny that the property was on the market.

But the Rev. Ray Batema, pastor of the Central Baptist Church of Pomona, told The News he had received a form letter from the Salvation Army two months ago asking if his church would be interested in acquiring the property. Mr. Batema said he understood other groups in the area had also been contacted as potential buyers, but did not know any of the names.

"If the price is right, we're interested," he said, and outlined plans for a Christian junior high and high school on the site. Central Baptist now operates a pre-school and elementary school on its property on San Bernardino Rd. in Pomona, next to the San Bernardino Freeway.

"I don't think they're real anxious to sell, though," Mr. Batema said. "We contacted them two months ago right after receiving the letter. They said they would get in touch with us, but we haven't heard anything."

Mr. Batema said he'd been in touch with the Boys' Club officials, and was "confident something could be worked out."

But Joe Parker, executive director of the club, isn't as confident.

"We're just here on a day-to-day basis," he sighs, "on borrowed time."

He said the Salvation Army had notified the club in March that the property might be sold, and that Boys' Club officials had scouted Upland for a new location since then -- finding nothing.

The club, founded in 1958, moved to its own, 2-1/2-acre site in 1966, located on N. Campus Ave. in Los Olivos. Some small boys, paying "camp" in the back of the building, burned down the facility in May 1970.

For awhile, the club used the Community Building at Memorial Park, but Parker said it was impossible to maintain any kind of an effective program while sharing the building with so many other community groups.

When the offer came from the Salvation Army, it was promptly accepted. The club's membership grew to 240 in the expansive atmosphere of the old college campus. And the only cost to the club was for utilities -- no rent.

Programs of the organization are aimed mainly at disadvantaged youths. Cost for a year's membership is $1 for young men 7 to 18. If they can't afford that, they can do work around the club in exchange for the fee.

Athletic equipment is provided, along with supervision, plus some crafts, field trips, tours and overnight campouts at the club. But, "Recreation is only used as a tool," Parker says. "We attract the boys who need guidance with the recreation. The most important thing is to get them here. Then we can help them."

So rap sessions and counseling are just as much a part of the Boys' Club as basketball and checkers.

During the school year, some 60 to 70 young men a day come through the Boys' Club's doors, with the number doubling in the summer, Parker says. And this summer, a special bus is making 10 stops in Ontario to transport boys to the Upland club. Parker estimates another 40 young men a day are taking advantage of this new program.

Parker is the only fulltime employee, but six young men from the Neighborhood Youth Corps will work with him this summer.

He said the club's directors were studying construction of its own building, but explains that cost is prohibitive at this time.

The bulk of the club's financing comes from the United Fund, he explained, "and by the hustle of our directors" who solicit donations from various civic groups.

The cities of Ontario and Upland provide some funding. But Upland councilmen, worried that the club might be leaving the city if it couldn't relocate, decided to dole out their $4,000-a-year allocation in monthly payments next year instead of in the lump sum, as in the past.

Parker said there is "no chance" that the club will leave Upland. "We'll move into much smaller headquarters and trim our program way back before we'd even consider moving out," he said. "I hate the idea, because it would mean cutting out someone who could use the help."

"Some say the city recreation program is the answer, but that's just getting started, and we reach a lot of kids who wouldn't even think of going into the city Program."

"I think there will always be a need for us," he said.

Population Check Pays In Upland

The City of Upland will receive approximately $36,400 more during the 1972-73 fiscal year as a result of the recent revised population estimate.

As of May 5, the State Department of Finance will certify the city's population as 34,850, according to Walter P. Hollman, chief of the Population Research Division of the State Department of Finance.

City Manager Elwin "Pinky" Alder said the city will receive $217,450 for motor vehicle license fees, $14,345 more than the city would have received from the former 32,551 population. He said the city will receive $15,795 from the gas tax apportionment, $1,016 more. The city will receive $19,123 from another gas tax apportionment, $1,261 more than the city would have received had the city not requested the revised population estimate.

New Fiscal Year July 1; Confusion Seen

The new fiscal year beginning July 1 is fast approaching.

The budget season usually means headaches and long, sleepless hours for trustees, city councilmen and directors who try to match their expenditures with their incomes. And it means consternation and confusion for property owners trying to keep tabs on the various agencies that will decide the size of their tax bills.

Unfortunately, for one reason or another, figuring an income is largely guesswork, and if the prognosticators' crystal balls are a trifle cloudy, the whole business of studying, grappling with, and adopting budgets can prove to be an exercise in futility.

A large hunk of the income for school districts and cities comes from property taxes. Property is assessed at one-fourth its market value, and the tax rate is fixed for each $100 in assessed valuation.

But somehow, the county assessor can't have the assessment rolls ready in time to help with budget deadlines. So those preparing the budgets make an educated guess, and hope they hit the mark.

School administrators have the extra fun of second-guessing the state legislature and the governor, who often can't agree on an education appropriation until long after district budgeting is completed.

They're also expected to accurately predict student movement--how many will leave the district over the summer, and how many will move in. Nearly every budget item is based on the student population of the district, but again, that's purely guesswork.

Officials in city government have a different kind of fun--trying to predict how much they'll get from gas tax revenues, sales taxes and various fees.

Usually caught in the middle--and often the loser--in the budgeting snarl is the employee, who comes with outstretched palm for a pay increase. "Things are too uncertain," he sympathetically told, and he often must settle for a "cautious" salary hike to keep from upsetting the delicate financial balance.

As it now stands, Upland property owners may face a slight overall increase--from the schools. If you're keeping score, here's how it adds up, so far:

CITY OF UPLAND--For the fourth straight year, it looks like the city will keep its $1.80 tax rate. Even though proposed expenditures are up 23 percent, the building boom in Upland has boosted the city's income to offset it.

In fact, taxpayers last week missed a two-cent tax reduction by only one vote, as the council voted 3-2 to turn down the cut. Mayor Abner Haldeman and Councilman Harold Bailin were for the reduction, but the other three councilmen felt it wasn't worth the $14,200 in cuts it would cause.

CHAFFEY COLLEGE--Trustees have adopted a $7.04 million budget calling for a two-cent rate increase, raising the rate to nearly 62 cents for each $100 assessed property value. The two cents will help accommodate a larger student body, increased vocational programs, and a 3 percent pay raise for all salaried employees.

Trustee Georgia Mellon, opposing the rate increase, was the only board member to vote against the budget.

CHAFFEY HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT--Trustees are being especially cautious here, because they must go to the polls in September to ask voters to approve a new tax rate. Still, it appears district taxpayers may end up with a 25 to 30-cent increase, up to around $2.72 from this year's rate of $2.49.

'Good Old Days' Set; Parade Sat. Night

More than 20 organizations have signed up to sponsor booths at the street carnival after dusk. Included will be homemade wares and candy, food, boutiques and other sidewalk shops.

On the cultural side, the Associated Artists of the Chaffey Community will present an art show in the old Central Market building, and Stefan Petroff of the West End Opera Association will man a booth for that organization.

Special guest of the event will be Enid Borachmann of Mildura, one of Upland's sister cities. She will get an official welcome from Mayor Abner Haldeman.

Music will be provided until 10 p.m. at the Kiosk by a Dixieland band.

Upland merchants alone footed the $280,000 bill for the renovation project five years ago, through an assessment district.

Upland residents will poke around in their attics and dip into their memories of the past this weekend to relive "The Good Old Days" and to mark the fifth anniversary of the Upland Town Center.

Special promotions by the sponsoring Upland Town Merchants Association will run throughout. But the highlight of the two-day celebration promises to be Saturday night's parade and street carnival.

Residents are being encouraged to don pioneer or early California costumes, or to drive their "horseless carriages" in the parade. Participants will assemble in the Bank of America parking lot at 6:30 p.m., with the best costumes in several categories, and sales personnel in the downtown stores will be eligible to compete for best costume honors over the two-day event.

Food In The News

Coming next week in the Upland News is an altogether new food section. Would-be gourmets and imaginative housewives will find it interesting and informative.

Look for the new food section in the all-new Upland News.

Cable TV Now In Upland

Upland will be serviced by a cable television service now being installed by Theta Co., a subsidiary of Hughes Aircraft and Teleprompter.

The firm has franchise to provide cable service to Upland, Ontario and Montclair, plus other, unincorporated areas within the Chaffey Union High and Ontario - Montclair school districts.

Through cable service, residents will be able to pick up additional channels, and locally-produced programs. The firm is required to make channels available for local use by cities or school districts.

Officials of the firm estimate that the system should be completed by next May.

WHICH ARE 'THE GOOD OLD DAYS'? -- Upland residents will revert to the past with a 'Good Old Days' theme to celebrate the fifth anniversary of their renovated downtown business district. But few will agree that the pre-mall days downtown, shown in the top photo, were as good as those today, pictured at bottom. Both views are looking north on 2nd Ave.

The news — briefly

Wineman Elected Director

Four men affiliated with local wineries have been elected as first district directors of the California Wine Institute at the organization's yearly convention in San Francisco.

They are Michael Blane, Brookside Vineyard Co. of Cucamonga, Guasti and Sacramento; Joseph A. Filippi Jr., Filippi Vintage Co. of Mira Loma; Cesare Val of the Cucamonga Vineyard Co. of Cucamonga; and William E. Walk Jr. of Brookside.

Museum Commission Chairman Announced

Robert Walline of Upland is now serving as chairman of the San Bernardino County Museum Commission, succeeding Dr. Paul F. Allen of Redlands.

As chairman, Walline supervises the activities of the 10-member body, which advises the county supervisors on museum policy. Two persons are chosen from each supervisorial district to serve on the commission.

Local Teachers Banding Together

Teachers from nine locals of the American Federation of Teachers AFL-CIO -- including that representing teachers of the Chaffey Union High School District -- are banding together to form a two-county council.

A second organizational meeting will be held Saturday in Riverside to formalize plans. The group has already agreed to hire a full-time organizer to help teachers deal with school boards and to coordinate activities among the nine locals, and to establish local workshops focused on educational techniques, teacher evaluation, retirement, and other health and welfare matters.

"We found that all teachers in the area face similar problems and can benefit by working together," said Wayne Hubert, president of the West San Bernardino County Federation of Teachers, which represents the Chaffey teachers.

Trustees, Teachers Call In Mediator

A "persistent disagreement" exists between trustees and teachers in the Upland Elementary School District over pay increases and benefits next year, so a mediator is being called.

Trustees did not respond to the proposals of the Certificated Employees' Council within 30 days, leaving the matter open to arbitration.

School officials decided to wait--as they have the past three years--to settle teachers' salaries and fringe benefits in the fall, when the district's full income and enrollment are known.

Trustees did extend the current pay scale to Oct. 15, to insure employees that they would at least receive the same salary as last year.

But Gordon Ingalls, a CEC spokesman, says making the teachers wait is unfair.

Density Study Here Tonight

A residential density study of multi-family developments in Upland will be considered tonight by the Upland Planning Commission.

The study, which was conducted by the Upland Planning Department, recommends the addition of two new designations to the land use element of the city's general plan. They are 7-20 and 7-10 families per acre density.

The study recommends the creation of an R-3-4350 zone which would require 4,350 square feet of lot area for each dwelling unit regardless of type.

According to the study, 1,317 multi-family units are now under construction. The city already has 3,521 multi-family dwellings and without counting the one unit structure variety located on multi-family lots. At the present time, 523 additional units are in the planning stage.

The two proposed designations lower the 7-12 and 7-30 per acre density zones, which are presently in the municipal code.

The study is in response to a directive from the city council.

40 Summer Programs Available Here

Mobilehome Living Booming Loud Here

Pre-registration will continue through Friday for 40 summer programs being offered by the Upland Parks and Recreation Department.

Participants may wait until the first day of the activity to register, but recreation officials warn some activities may be filled by then.

Registration is being conducted at the locations of the activities, but signups for classes requiring a fee will be handled at the city water department, 404 N. 2nd Ave., from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. today and Friday.

Late registration for fee programs will be pro-rated, but no refunds will be granted.

All activities begin Monday, unless otherwise indicated. The summer program will culminate in the annual summer recreation review Aug. 10 at 7 p.m. at the Upland High School auditorium. Performances, demonstrations, displays and awards will be presented.

RECREATION CENTERS--Supervised activities will be available on weekdays at eight schools, and on the year-round Los Olivos recreation center. A recreation supervisor will be stationed at each playground to check out games and play equipment, and to organize play and tournaments in chess, carroms, foursquare, volleyball, table tennis, tetherball, and checkers. Citrus, Cabrillo, Sycamore, Magnolia, Pioneer, Sierra Vista and Foothill Knolls will be open from 1 to 4 p.m., and Upland High will provide recreation from 10:30 a.m. to noon.

Activities at Los Olivos include boxing, basketball, baseball, table tennis, carroms, and pool. A schedule for Los Olivos is available by calling 985-6717 or 982-1352. Supervisor is Manuel Contreras Sr., assisted by Danny Munoz.

ASTRONOMY--Four sessions for youngsters 6 to 12, begin promptly at 9:30 a.m. at the Chaffey College planetarium. "Sun in the Sky," Monday; "Constellations," Wednesday; "Geocentric vs. Heliocentric," July 6; and "To Catch a Falling Star," July 7. Participants must pre-register. Parents are invited.

TENNIS--Two series of tennis instruction will be offered at four schools. The first series will run from Monday to July 22; the second from July 24 to Aug. 12, for beginning, intermediate and advanced players. The Upland High courts will be open from 8 a.m. to noon on weekdays, plus from 5 to 7 p.m. on Mondays and Wednesdays, and from 9 to 11 a.m. on Saturdays. The Upland Junior High courts will be open on week days from 1 to 3 p.m.; and the Pioneer Junior High courts will be available on weekdays from 8 a.m. to noon and on Saturdays from 9 to 11 a.m. Six tournaments for all ages and levels -- including intercommunity matches--will be held throughout the summer.

BICYCLING--Free, supervised bike travel will be sponsored each Saturday beginning at 8:30 a.m. at Upland Junior High. Persons 12 and older (adults, too) are eligible, but 10-speed bikes are recommended.

BRIDGE--Beginning and intermediate classes in bridge will be offered on Tuesdays at the Recreation Hall for adults. The beginning seven lessons cover opening bids, slam bidding, defensive plays, basic conventions and rebids, and will be held from 1 to 3 p.m. The intermediate course includes lessons and competition, and will be offered from 3:15 to 5:15 p.m. The beginning class is a prerequisite.

SEWING--Girls from 9 to 13 are eligible to learn finger sewing, embroidery, knitting and crocheting at four locations: Sierra Vista, and Magnolia Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 1 to 4 p.m.; Citrus, and Upland Junior High Tuesdays and Thursdays from 1 to 4 p.m.

BALLROOM DANCING--Those 16 and older may participate in ballroom dancing instruction at Sierra Vista Elementary School. Beginning classes will include instruction in the fox trot, waltz, cha-cha, lindy, polka and Viennese waltz on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Advanced students will learn the tango, rumba, samba, cha-cha, mambo, and waltzes during the same hours on Thursdays.

ARCHERY--Instruction for youngsters 8 and older, and adults will be available in target shooting, field archery and clout shooting on weekdays from 10 a.m. to noon at Memorial Park, north of the fire ring. Bows and arrows will be furnished.

MACRAME--Basic skills in the art of knotting using string and yarn will be taught for ages 12 to 18 in the Recreation Hall on Mondays and Wednesdays from 1:15 to 3:15 p.m.

MIDGET LEAGUE BASEBALL--Boys 7 to 10 who have their own gloves are eligible to learn and participate in organized games Monday through Friday from 9 to 11 a.m. at Sierra Vista, Magnolia, Baldy View and Upland Junior High.

STORY TELLING--Eight locations will offer morning and afternoon story-telling sessions for youngsters 3 to 7. On weekdays, Foothill Knolls will have classes from 9 to 9:45 a.m.; Sierra Vista, 10 to 10:45 a.m.; Upland High, 11:15 to noon; and Magnolia, from 1 to 1:45 p.m.; on Mondays and Wednesdays, Upland Elementary from 2 to 2:45 p.m.; and on Tuesdays and Thursdays at Citrus from 2 to 2:45 p.m. and Sycamore from 3 to 3:45 p.m. Included will be songs, puppet shows and filmstrips.

ART AND CRAFTS--All eight of the playground sites will offer arts and crafts instruction from 1 to 4 p.m. on weekdays with a different theme each week, at a cost of 25 cents a week. Included will be figurines, painting, copper work, shell jewelry, finger painting, braided plastics and mosaics for young people 6 to 16.

INTERNATIONAL FOLK DANCING--Study and practice of folk dancing from around the world, including a performance at the conclusion of the class. Five to 10-year-olds will meet Mondays and Wednesdays from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m.; 11 to 15, Tuesdays from 5 to 7 p.m., both in the Upland Junior High gym.

WOODSHOP--Youngsters 10 and older are eligible for a six-week woodshop class from 1 to 4 p.m. on weekdays at Upland Junior High. Tools will be furnished, but a small fee will be charged for materials.

AERONAUTICS--Youngsters over 10 and adults can learn to build and fly modern aircraft, but must furnish their own supplies. Sessions will be conducted at the Recreation Hall on Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays from 9 a.m. to noon, and on Friday from 1 to 4 p.m.

These activities are sponsored in conjunction with the school districts and other organizations: GYM--Supervised gym activities are available to students of junior high, high school and college age, and adults on Monday through Thursday evenings from 6 to 9:30 p.m. at the Upland High gym. Organized activities include teen and adult basket-

Full Agenda Planned For County Planners

The San Bernardino County Planning Commission will hear four local matters at its meeting next Thursday.

Betty Ann Inc. is seeking a zone change from multiple residential to light manufacturing on a parcel of land on the east side of Amethyst St. south of Monte Vista St. in Alta Loma. That hearing will begin at 10:15 a.m.

In the second matter, planners will consider site approval to allow Florence E. Steffensen to store, restore, repair and keep antique or vintage motor vehicles in a light manufacturing zone near 11th St. and Benson Ave. in the county area west of Upland and north of Montclair. The hearing is set for 10:30 a.m.

Two zone change petitions for Alta Loma will be heard at 1:30 p.m. In the first, John F. Anderson is asking that a parcel on the northeast corner of 19th St. and Archibald Ave. be rezoned from single family residential (transitional) with a 5,500 square foot minimum lot size, to C-2 and R-3, general business and multiple family residential.

Boruchin Enterprises Inc. is making the second request, asking the rezoning of a parcel on the southwest corner of Hamilton and Jasper from agricultural to single family residential.

Ms. Van Praag Memorialized

The late Anna Van Praag of Upland was recently memorialized by her students at the Mission School in Ontario with the planting of a deodar tree in the school's courtyard.

Ms. Van Praag taught preschool deaf and aurally handicapped children at the school for nearly three years before her death March 6. She and her teenage daughter, Melanie Jean, were murdered in their Upland home

MORE CARS
1910 additional cars are coming in 1972, including 100 giant refrigerated hopper cars for in-bulk movement of potatoes, oranges and other perishables.

MORE TERMINALS
Santa Fe's new million dollar rail and truck terminal has now been completed at Houston, Texas to meet expanding truck, Piggy-Back and container traffic.

BETTER SERVICE
Run through trains with connecting railroads link -- east, west, and southwest and save hours moving through Santa Fe's electronic classification yard in Kansas City.

BETTER PIGGY-BACK
We're expanding Piggy-Back and container service all along the Santa Fe to handle increasing domestic and international shipments.

BETTER IDEAS
An expanding microwave network linked to our data system for car tracing and locomotive utilization, and plans for the development of a unique coaxial train for moving containers are just a few of the new ideas at work on the Santa Fe.

MORE and BETTER are key words at Santa Fe. What we're doing, is why we're saying, rail service is still one of the most efficient ways to move freight. What we're spending says so too: over $100 million this year in railway capital expenditures. One billion in the last 10 years. Two billion since World War II.

The railroad industry and the Nation need sensible transport regulatory policies-- administered with an even hand. We can take it from there--into a new era of railroading. Still think the railroads are at the beginning of the end? For Santa Fe it's more like the end of the beginning!

Santa Fe --The complete transportation company moving by rail, truck, air freight, pipeline and land development.

Mobile Home Park 'Chopped In Half'

A proposed mobile home park in a controversial area near Cable Airport was chopped in half by the Upland City Council.

The developers of a proposed mobile home park requested a zone change from A-1 to R-1-MH and a conditional use permit on 19 acres north of 14th St., between Mountain Ave. and Benson Ave. The developer also requested a zone change from A-1 to R-1-D (7,500-square foot lots) on 12 acres north of 13th Street, west of Mountain Ave. The R-1-MH request was denied but the R-1-D request was approved. Councilman Harold A. Ballin disqualified himself because the developer, Matreyek Homes Inc., is a client of his firm. The R-1-MH request was denied 3-1 with Councilman A.M. Hawkins Jr.

dissenting. The vote was 4-0 for approval of the R-1-D request.

To complicate matters further, the developer has had a conditional use permit for the property north of 14th St., for a mobile home park but asked for an extension. This matter was continued to the July 17 meeting to permit the developer to present a new plan to the council. The council seemed to favor the extension but wants a definite plan for a buffer zone between the mobile home park and the single family homes next to the proposed park.

The proposed mobile home park is in an area that has been designated for a golf course and park in the general plan. The Planning Commission recently came up with a plan to change the general plan designation to a mixture of light industrial, park and low-density residential. The planners' proposal for the approximately 160-acre area was rejected by the council.

The planners are scheduled to review the area but the action of the council Monday night may throw a monkey wrench into those plans.

Wayne Blanton said he favored the R-1-MH request because it will be cheaper to condemn a mobile home park than permanent homes if the city decides to make a park in the area later.

Bob Sherwood said he sees no need for another mobile home park at this time because the two newest parks the city has now are only partially filled. Paul Cable said he would rather see a mobile home park than permanent homes in the area because permanent homes would create problems for the airport.

Bill Matreyek noted that the proposed mobile home park is for adults only and will not put any pressure on the school system. He said it would be difficult to get financing for permanent homes in the area because of airport noise.

Sherwood said two lots next to the proposed mobile homes in the area because of airport noise.

Sherwood said two lots next to the proposed mobile home park have already been approved for loans

Councilman George M. Gibson said the city already has 813 mobile home spaces and he thinks that is ample for the time being. He moved to deny the R-1-MH zoning below 14th St., and Councilman John E. McCarthy seconded the motion.

What Readers Look For In A Women's Page

Dear Women's Editor:
I should like to see the title "Women's page" eliminated, for I do not believe that only women are interested in the so-called "womanly arts." Are not men also concerned with cooking, their children's welfare, and even sewing or knitting, for example Rosie Greer?

Perhaps we might advance individuality by eliminating stereotyped titles.

D.B.

Dear Women's Editor:

I think a woman's page is still relevant, though in a changed format... I would be enthusiastic about reading articles about alternative life-styles to the man's 8-to-5 routine and the woman's housewife-PTA-chauffeur-etc. routine and would like to see more articles about specific individuals whose life-styles are different.

O. A.

Dear Women's Editor:

I enjoy many of the feature stories about women and fear that without a Women's Page such features might be lost. In the name of nondiscrimination we may become less visible than ever before. So I must argue instead for a woman's page -- but a new woman's page, that tells the stories of today's women in the many dimensions that exist. The morale and courage "to be" of many women will be enhanced by this kind of a woman's page.

As for the other features of a traditional woman's page, put them into a section called "styles" of "living" or some such. There happens to be many men to whom this kind of thing is of interest, too.

P. G.

Dear Women's Editor:

Must there be a woman's page? Should women continue to be treated as a category like sports, comics, classified ads, books and business?

Why not treat those subjects worthwhile covering in a newspaper in their own sexless categories -- fashion, clubs, education, food, health, recreation, music, and so on -- instead of classifying them as the property of women? ... But if newspapers can't divest themselves of women's pages, then let them give equal rights to all and provide comparable men's pages. There they can cover all men's clubs, fashions, hair styles, entertainments, health and marriage problems, and evening entertainments.

Of course, the newspaper will then need a sort of sex counselor, to solve the problem of where to put items about food, for instance, since both sexes consume it, and some say the best cooks are men, but obviously a powerful number of women spend time tinkering with food. And where will household budgets go? Don't men have as much to do with them as women?

W. S.

Dear Women's Editor:

I have two suggestions:
A) Items mentioned such as food, fixing, children, health, sex, divorce, properly belong on a "living" or a "family" page.

B) Items that are genuinely pertinent to women (career opportunities, success stories, significant organizational activities not "clubs," educational opportunities in new fields) should be the only things included on the "Women's Page."

K. S.

Dear Women's Editor:

I've said it before and I'll say it again -- "Women's Page" promotes what is called "sexism" by assuming that there are special categories of things women are supposed to know about and be interested in, that are not of interest to "men." This is silly, and divisive in terms of categorizing the human race into bigoted "boxes." We have a "Sports Page," "Business Page," "Arts Page," etc. -- OK by subject. If "women" want to read about business or sports, let 'em, and if you want to have a "house and garden page" or a "sewing and cooking" page, and "men" want to read it, let 'em. But let's get rid of a "Women's Page."

B. B.

Dear Women's Editor:

Here are a few points from a senior citizen:

We are on budgets and could appreciate one day a month some recipes that are simple but different. We cannot afford to buy a lot of spices, etc. to use once or twice. Many of us live in mobile homes or in efficiency apartments as I do... So some points on decorating would be appreciated.

D. B.

Dear Women's Editor:

You may think this strange, a guy writing to you. But, believe it or not, I like to cook! I would like to see a page in the paper that would include unusual recipes, maybe comments by local chefs and so forth. I guess you'd call this a woman's page "thing." But I think such articles would have more universal appeal.

A.H.

Dear Women's Editor:

Why are most women's pages always so cut and dry? I am a college student and would like to see a woman's page that would be, well, a little "exciting." Women's pages that report nothing but teas, how to crack eggs and what to knit, on a rainy day don't make it in my book.

G.R.

Dear Women's Editor:

You're going to have a WOMAN'S page? Yippee! And just when I was starting to feel isolated here at home with nothing but magazines and the world news to read. More par to you.

R.H.

Dear Women's Editor:

I am a middle-aged lady, but despite my age, I believe I think young.

I would like to see a modern woman's page in the paper. Most women's pages just don't interest me that much. Maybe you know what I mean. Anyway, I've said my piece.

A.H.

Widening Her World

By ANNE GRAHAM
Women's Editor

In modern newspapers, the traditional woman's page is becoming a thing of the past. Until about six years ago, most women's pages still were stressing "cute" items, material designed to appeal to the limited woman. In six years, women and women's pages have come a long way.

One of the first newspapers to change the one-dimensional woman's page view was The Christian Science Monitor.

At a Columbia University seminar in 1967, the Monitor quietly urged a revolution in women's page reporting. Said the Monitor: "Women and their interests and concerns are reaching far beyond their customary confines."

Today, the modern woman's page includes items of interest for readers of every age and sex. Limiting the page to the single title "women" has become obsolete. Articles concern "Fashion," including men's and boys'; "Food," for male cooks as well as women and children; "Children," their love and care, and naturally "Women," those who influence thought and action and help others in doing so.

It will be the policy of this newspaper and the effort of this woman's editor to keep the woman's page a modern one -- a page that will appeal to all women of all ages and, hopefully, to men.

As women no longer are limited, neither should the woman's page be.

ORDINANCE NO. 350.
AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF MONTCLAIR ADDING SECTION 9-4.2338 TO ARTICLE 23 OF CHAPTER 40F TITLE 9 OF THE MONTCLAIR MUNICIPAL CODE RELATING TO THE AMENDMENT OF THE OFFICIAL ZONING MAP.

The Council of the City of Montclair does ordain as follows:

SECTION 1. Amendment to Code. Section 9-4.2338 is hereby added to Article 23 of Chapter 40F of Title 9 of the Montclair Municipal Code to read as follows:

Section 9-4.2338. Zoning Map Amended.
The Single Family Residential (R-1) zone described as follows is hereby changed to Restricted Commercial (C-2) and said property is hereby zoned in accordance therewith:

That portion of Lot 21, according to the map of Sycamore Water Development Company's addition, in the City of Montclair, County of San Bernardino, State of California, as per map recorded in Book 11, Page 24 of Maps, in the office of the County Recorder of said county, described as follows:

COMMENCING at the intersection of the center line of San Bernardino Road and Central Avenue; thence North 00°03'30" East, along the center line of said Central Avenue, 303.00 feet; thence South 89°53'48" East 233.73 feet to the true point of beginning, said point being on the center line of a wash as described in the deed to L. Henschel Krieger and wife, recorded July 17, 1918 in Book 367, page 302 of Deeds, records of said county; thence continuing South 89°53'48" East, 127.51 feet to the westerly line of the land conveyed to Floyd Sanders and wife, by deed recorded July 25, 1930 in Book 637,

LEGALS

Page 392 of Deeds, records of said county; thence North 00°03'30" East (recorded North) along said westerly line 312.85 feet to an angle point therein, said point also being on the center line of the aforesaid wash; thence South 23°48'41" West (recorded South 23°45' West) along said wash center line to the true point of beginning.

The zoning map is amended in accordance with the provisions of this section and the district boundaries are so designated. An insert copy of Zoning Map No. 38 showing the described area is attached hereto and incorporated herein by reference.

SECTION 2. Publication.
The City Clerk shall cause this ordinance to be published in the Montclair Tribune at least once with fifteen (15) days after its passage.

Sec. 9-5.202. Administrative Review Committee; Approval.
The City Council of the City of Montclair hereby establishes an Administrative Review Committee, consisting of the City Administrator, the Director of Building & Planning, and the City Engineer. The duties and responsibilities of the Administrative Review Committee shall be to review and process precise plot plans submitted in conformity with the provisions of this Article.

Sec. 9-5.203. Precise Plot Plans.
Prior to the issuance of a building permit for five or more R-1 units, a precise plot plan shall be submitted to and approved by the Administrative Review Committee. Such precise plot plan shall specify and include:

(a) The location, size, height, and type of all structures, including signs, walls and fences;
(b) The location, size and dimensions of all yards and setbacks and all spaces between structures;
(c) The location, dimensions, and method of improvement of all driveways, walkways, and means of access, ingress and egress;
(d) The location, dimensions, and method of improvement of all property to be dedicated to the public or to public utilities; and
(e) The elevations of buildings proposed for construction, showing the general design, architectural features, and building materials.

Sec. 9-5.204. Administrative Review Committee; Procedure.
Upon receipt of such precise plot plan, the Administrative Review Committee shall review the same and shall either approve and impose conditions or disapprove it. In either case, the Administrative Review Committee shall prepare a report and decision summarizing its findings and conclusions.

LEGALS

Such decision shall be forwarded to the applicant and to the Planning Commission within ten (10) days following receipt of such precise plot plan. Such decision shall be final unless the applicant appeals in writing to the Planning Commission or the Planning Commission, upon its own motion, appeals such decision.

Sec. 9-5.205. Appeal.
The appeal of the Administrative Review Committee report and decision shall be in the following manner:

(a) Appeal by the Planning Commission shall be on its motion made at its next regular meeting after five (5) days from the date of mailing of the Administrative Review Committee report and decision;

(b) Appeal by the applicant shall be in writing and filed with the Clerk of the Planning Commission within ten (10) days of the mailing of the decision. The Appellant shall state specifically wherein he disagrees with the findings and conclusions of the Committee's report and decision.

Sec. 9-5.206. Planning Commission Hearing.

(a) In the event of an appeal to the Planning Commission of the report and decision of the Administrative Review Committee, the appeal shall be heard at the next regular Planning Commission meeting provided said meeting shall not be less than five (5) days thereafter, or at the second regular scheduled Planning Commission meeting after the date the appeal is filed if the first meeting is within five (5) days of the date the appeal is filed. The Planning Commission shall hear the appeal, and within thirty (30) days after receiving the appeal, shall make its decision and report in writing to the applicant.

(b) Where no appeal is made

of the report and decision of the Administrative Review Committee, the Planning Commission, following receipt of the Committee's report, shall cause the same to be read into its records at the next regularly scheduled meeting.

Sec. 9-5.207. Appeal to City Council.
Where an appeal has been heard by the Planning Commission, the action of the Commission shall become final on the date it makes its decision. However, within ten

(10) days after the date of its decision, a written appeal therefrom may be taken to the City Council by the party aggrieved by the determination of the Commission in connection with the application. The City Council, on its own motion, may appeal any decision of the Planning Commission. Such appeal, except on the City Council's own motion, shall be filed in triplicate with the City Clerk, and shall state specifically and with particularity the grounds therefor and wherein he disagrees with the decision and report of the Administrative Review Committee and the Planning Commission.

Sec. 9-5.210. Amendment and Modification.
Any such precise plot plan after adoption may be amended in the same manner as a precise plot plan is first adopted.

Sec. 9-5.211. Time Limit.
The duration of the precise plot plan shall be one year from the date its approval is final. If construction is being pursued diligently toward completion, the precise plot plan shall stay in full force for another one-year period. The Planning Commission may, upon application, extend the time limit in the case of an unavoidable delay.

SECTION 2. Publication.
The City Clerk shall cause this Ordinance to be published in the Montclair Tribune at least once within fifteen (15) days after its passage.

APPROVED AND ADOPTED this 19th day of June, 1972.

ning Commission shall, within ten (10) days, transmit to the City Council the original application and copies of all other papers constituting the record upon which their action was taken, together with a written report disclosing in what respects the application and the facts offered in support thereof met or failed to meet the requirements set forth in this Chapter and why the proposed precise plot plan shall or shall not be granted or modified.

Sec. 9-5.209. Council Decision.
The Council may affirm, reverse, or modify in whole or in part any decision, determination, or requirement of the Commission, but, before granting any appealed application which was denied by the Commission, or before changing any of the conditions imposed by the Commission, the Council shall set the matter for a hearing.

Sec. 9-5.210. Amendment and Modification.
Any such precise plot plan after adoption may be amended in the same manner as a precise plot plan is first adopted.

Sec. 9-5.211. Time Limit.
The duration of the precise plot plan shall be one year from the date its approval is final. ORDINANCE NO. 348
AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF MONTCLAIR ESTABLISHING AN ADMINISTRATIVE REVIEW PROCEDURE FOR THE APPROVAL OF SINGLE-FAMILY RESIDENTIAL DEVELOPMENTS OF FIVE UNITS OR MORE.

The City Council of the City of Montclair does ordain as follows:

SECTION 1. Addition to Code. Article 2, Chapter 5, Title 9, is hereby added to the Montclair Municipal Code to establish an Administrative Review Procedure for the approval of single-family residential developments of five units or more, as follows:

Article 2. Precise Plot Plan for Subdivision.

Sec. 9-5.201. Intent.
Soper shall commence any R-1 development of five or more units and no building permit shall be issued for such units until approval of the development pursuant to the Administrative Review Procedure of this Article.

The intent and purpose of the Administrative Review Procedure for R-1 development is to fulfill the following objectives and purposes:

(a) To encourage a desirable living environment;
(b) To encourage a more efficient, aesthetic and desirable use of land; and
(c) To encourage variety in the physical development pattern of the City.

Royalty A Big Key For All-Stars

The West San Gabriel Valley All-Stars will have a great deal going for them when the two teams clash at Citrus College Stadium July 6 in the Seventh Annual East-West All-Star game.

ROYALTY

Lovely 18-year-old Ms. Janet Carr from Temple City High School was recently selected by the Glendora Rotary Club as Queen for the charity classic. Ms. Carr led the way for a clean sweep for the West side when she was joined by two equally lovely lasses from the West slate of candidates who will serve as princesses.

First runnerup in the voting was charming Ms. Patricia Kinne, San Gabriel's Homecoming queen last season. Blair High's Ms. Barbara Haight was second runnerup in the balloting.

Queen Janet is the holder of several queen titles, and most recently served as queen of the National Orange show in San Bernardino. The former Citrus queen is a talented soprano who performs regularly with her San Gabriel Union Church choir. She intends to continue studying music and English at Pasadena City College. "I'm really excited about being named queen for the All-Star game," said the five-foot-eight blue-eyed blonde. "I love football games and I'm really looking forward to the game."

Princess Patricia Kinne is the former Ms. San Gabriel, and is also planning to attend Pasadena City College along with Ms. Carr. Princess Barbara Haight was a member of the 1967 pre-Olympic swimming team as a representative from the El Monte Aquatics Club which competed in Mexico and Canada prior to the '68 Olympic games. She plans to continue studies either at Princeton or USC majoring in international relations.

Four Pomona Valley beauties were among the slate of 20 candidates competing for the All-Star Queen title. The balloting was close, as each contestant was judged on poise, beauty and intelligence by the panel of 60

Rotarian judges. Each of the Pomona Valley lovelies will serve as cheerleaders for the East Team on Thursday, July 6.

Gwendolyn McMullen, Karen Peterson, Diane Yevonne Lopez and Joni Olivera represented Garey, Walnut, Los Altos and Chaffey respectively.

QUEENS -- All-Star Queen Janet Carr of Temple City, center, will be joined by Princesses Patricia Kinne, left, from San Gabriel, and Barbara Haight, right, of Blair High School in the Seventh Annual East-West San Gabriel Valley High School All-Star football game at Citrus College July 6.

Successful So Far

General Telephone Co. of California prevented the destruction of approximately 1,360 trees in its recent ecological experiment to recycle telephone directories in the Pomona-Ontario region, according to Rollo West, General Telephone service director.

The experiment thus far has proved more successful than originally anticipated. About 80 tons of 1971 telephone books were collected from customers, a response of 53 percent in the Pomona region. Original estimates were that less than 50 percent will be collected.

A ton of recycled paper usually amounts to an average of 17 trees; hence the figure of 1,360 trees preserved.

Further study will be needed before a decision can be reached on whether General will attempt to recycle its directories on a company-wide basis.

The experimental project was held in the Pomona-Ontario region May 8-13 when new directories for 1972-73 were delivered. Communities included in the test were Alta Loma, Chino, Claremont, Cucamonga, Diamond Bar, Etiwanda, Guasti, La Verne, Montclair, Mt. Baldy, San Dimas, Upland and Walnut. General's customers were requested to place old directories in front of their doors early on May 8 if they did not wish to be disturbed. Otherwise, the company's directory carrier, Product Development Corporation, rang doorbells in an attempt to pick up the old books.

A doorknob hanger was left at customers' homes informing them that 1971 directories could be taken to the Pomona and Ontario Telephone business offices through May 17 should the attempt to collect old directories be unsuccessful.

The ecological test was the first of its kind with telephone directories in Southern California. The 1971 directories have been compressed into bales by Southern California Paper Fibres Corporation before they were forwarded to a nearby paper mill, where they will be reduced to pulp. The latter firm will recycle the directories for use in such materials.

Telephone Company Would Spare The Ax

A different kind of insurance.

Flying Eight Miles High

MSAC airline majors get on-plane training, while passengers sightsee

Where will it all end? First floating campuses and now a classroom in the sky. It began in 1965 with the remark, "It's too bad we can't teach out the window of an airplane."

These words by United Airline's pilot, Bill Arnot, and the support of MSAC faculty members Stu Angle and Dr. James Findley gave birth to the initial flight.

Classroom in the Sky has a twofold purpose. It is designed first as an "educational experience" and second as a cultural one.

This learning program takes place aboard a United DC8 chartered plane with a preplanned destination. The scheduled trips are planned for weekends and usually cover more than 10,000 plane miles.

The first trip, "Higher Education the MSAC Way" offered students the chance to study, fly over, key interest points in California. It was this introductory course that laid the groundwork for the first established flight to Alaska in 1965.

Passengers on the '65 excursion flew to Alaska, with brief stops in Nome and Fairbanks.

Western North America marked the classroom's second trip in 1967 when the crew took in the grandeur of the Canadian Rockies and the Gulf of Mexico.

Although this journey captured some unforgettable scenery, it was the least successful of the flights because of the poor weather conditions.

Stone faces of Mt. Rushmore, and an aerial glimpse of the sunrise highlighted 1969's trek. People on this flight saw the sunrise and sunset in one motion, when the captain took the plane up, 38,000 feet above the Colorado, to see the sun rise, and then descended to 6,000 feet to watch it disappear again.

The fourth airflight in 1970 followed a route to the sun, when the guests aboard saw a total eclipse of the sun. The Apollo 13 launch facilities and tour of Cape Kennedy were other features of the trip.

Classroom in the Sky revisited Alaska on its 1971 excursion. Absorbing the historical sites of Boston, the Meteor Crater and Rule Air Force Base in Greenland, the crew continued on following the 1901 discovery trail. They later orbited the North Pole and proceeded toward the Alaskan oil fields, Nome and Anchorage were their next stops where the group toured the Portage Glacier and Mt. McKinley, heading home along a coastal route to California.

"Locks, Bongos and Pyramids" is the theme behind this year's May 13-14 trip--the first of the trips to offer a continental approach.

Focus of the trip will be on Central America, the Panama Canal, the island of Jamaica, the northern coast of Columbia, Baja California, central and southeastern Mexico and the Mayan ruins at Yucatan.

This exotic travel route takes in the city of Puerto Vallarta in southeastern Mexico, Mt. Citlaltetpetl, the third largest volcanic mountain in North America (18,850 feet), the inaccessible highlands of Central America, the pirate town of Port Royal in Jamaica and the inspirational Mayan ruins at Yucatan.

This year marks the sixth flight for Classroom in the Sky with plans for an even more spectacular flight agenda next year.

Guests aboard this flight will witness what Mr. Angle calls, "The greatest eclipse since mankind," when the Classroom takes a 13 day, world jaunt, on their "Around the World in 13 Days" voyage.

D.A. Busch

Father Not Always The 'Bad Guy'

District Attorney Joseph P. Busch, whose investigators have arrested 1,368 fathers in moves against child support violators in the past year, doesn't want to give the impression that the father is always the "bad guy."

Busch has become widely known for his crackdowns on men who refuse to pay child support, thus leaving the burden of supporting their children on the county's taxpayers.

In fact, the 548 men who were arrested in a countywide crackdown last month were delinquent nearly $600,000, and a great percentage of that money may now be collected.

But Busch wants to emphasize that there are other types of violations in child support—and his office is looking for all of them.

One such violation is the false claim.

"A lot of people think they can get away with filing a false report," the District Attorney said. "And maybe they can—for a while. But when they're caught, they have to make restitution, and they become subject to a fine and possible imprisonment if the violation is serious enough."

Busch discussed the case of a Van Nuys mother who recently was ordered to pay back more than $1,600 she had received illegally. She also was placed on probation for two years.

Busch said the woman falsely claimed that she and her child had been abandoned by her husband and that she didn't know where he was.

Her husband actually was in the Army and was sending her about $150 a month from his paychecks.

By not telling anyone about the money she was receiving, Busch said, the woman was able to receive $235 a month from the county, as well as free rent, food stamps and medical care for herself and her child.

About three months ago, the woman made the mistake that led to her arrest. She signed a statement accusing her husband of failure to provide.

When he returned from the service, he was arrested. He was able to explain that he had been sending money to his wife, and all charges were dropped.

"When the woman was questioned about the money she had been receiving both from her husband and from the county," Busch said, "she said she knew she had lied but thought nobody would find out."

Busch said that Russell C. Sletmoen, investigator in charge of the San Fernando Valley Child Support Division which handled the woman's case, refers an average of 12 to 15 cases a month to the fraud investigation section of the Department of Public Social Services.

"We investigate all cases involving an absent father," Busch said, "and when evidence of fraud is turned up, the charges are quickly brought. Just as an example, Mr. Sletmoen's office made 72 arrests in May, resulting in 65 convictions with others pending. This month, it has 124 warrants to serve."

Busch is seeking to expand child support investigation. He has asked the Board of Supervisors to consider adding an estimated 50 investigators, attorneys and clerical workers. There would be no increase in cost to county taxpayers, because state funds would be forthcoming under last year's Welfare Reform Act. Disposition of the request is expected soon.

New Trustee Named To Claremont Board

John F. Bishop of Newport Beach has been elected to the board of trustees of Claremont Men's College. Announcement was made last week by Edwin H. Corbin, chairman of the board.

Since 1960, Bishop has been president and chairman of the board of Dana-Lab, Inc. of Newport Beach, manufacturers of electronic measuring instruments, test equipment, optical instruments and lenses.

Born in Yenangaung, Burma, Bishop received his B.S. in mechanical engineering from the University of California at Berkeley in 1945. He was a Lieutenant (j.g.), U.S.N.R., at the Midshipman School, Notre Dame, and in 1948 received his M.B.A. from Harvard University.

Long identified with the engineering industry, Bishop has held various management posts during the past 23 years, beginning in market development with the Owens-Corning Fiberglass Corporation in 1948. He has been with Beckman Instruments, Inc., where he was a division general manager, and with Textron Electronics, Inc., as executive vice president. He was president of Bishop-Howlett, Inc. when it was merged with Dana Labs, Inc. in 1962.

Bishop is a director of the Baker Oil Tools, Inc., Los Angeles; of the Bertha Corporation, Irvine, manufacturers of aircraft equipment; of System Development Corporation, Santa Monica, manufacturers of computer software systems; and of the Electronic Engineering Co. of California, Santa Ana.

Apart from his business activities, the new trustee is well known for his leadership in community affairs. He is the founding president of the University of California Irvine Foundation, serving on the management committee, and is on the board of directors of Merchants and Manufacturers Association.

Bishop is a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers; the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers; and a past director and member of the executive committees of the Instrument Society of America and the Western Electronic Manufacturers Association.

Bishop and his wife, Ann, have four children, Karen Lee (married), Kimberly Ann, Suzanne Louise, and John Bradford, who attends Claremont Men's College, Class of '74.

Assessor Urges Bill Passage

Los Angeles County Assessor Philip E. Watson has urged passage of Assembly Bill 567 which would extend the Homeowner Exemption filing period for mobile home owners to August 15, instead of the normal April 15 deadline.

Pointing out his Department's recent decision to assess immobile mobile homes for property taxes for the first time this year, Watson stressed the need for an extension of the deadline.

"Although our Department launched an extremely successful campaign to get all mobilehome owners who may qualify for the $750 Homeowner Exemption to file before the regular April 15 closing date, we feel that circumstances warrant special legislative action to insure that no qualified person is denied," Watson said.

The proposed legislation sponsored by Assemblyman Larry Townsend and Joe Consalves, was recently approved by the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee and should go before the Assembly for approval shortly.

Art Assc. To Hold Workshops

The Pomona Valley Art Association is offering summer workshops in a variety of media. Classes now are being held in the PVAA gallery mezzanine, Home Savings and Loan Building, 100 Pomona Mall West.

Registration can be made with individual instructors. Information on the program can be obtained at the gallery, 622-9967.

The courses are:

Sculpture - morning and afternoon classes. Classes began June 20 and are taught by Ms. Betty Davenport Ford (626-5752), a graduate of Scripps College and Cranbrook Academy of Art. Ms. Ford is known for her work in clay, fiberglass, bronze, aluminum and welded sculpture in brass and steel, with examples displayed at various art galleries throughout the United States as well as locally. Ms. Ford teaches design, building of ceramic sculpture and techniques of finishes in a variety of subjects.

Beginning Oil Painting - Ms. Evelyn Dowd (626-1533) is now instructing classes. She has studied at the Chouinard Art Institute, Mt. San Antonio College, and with Robert Wee and Robert Kramer. Ms. Dowd is a member of the Pomona Valley Art Association, Associated Artists and the Edgewood Art Guild.

Jewelry - morning classes beginning July 24, will be conducted by Ms. Alice Ritchie (624-4944), a graduate of Brigham Young University and art instructor at Claremont High School. Ms. Ritchie has also studied at San Fernando, San Diego and Los Angeles State Colleges.

Basic Watercolor Techniques - Ms. Phyllis Small (626-7401) will hold afternoon classes beginning Aug. 7 in still life and landscape, using wash, dry brush and wet-in-wet techniques. Ms. Small has studied at the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts, Pierce College and UCLA and is the former art editor and illustrator of the Young America Magazine.

Silk Screening - instructed by Ms. Kay Baum (593-7387) who is well known for her techniques and teaching abilities. Morning workshops will start on Aug. 7.

Macrame - Ms. Vera Tyson (593-1832) will hold morning classes starting Aug. 14. She is a member of Pomona Valley, Fontana and Laguna Beach art associations, and received her B.A. degree from Pomona College.

She has also studied under Meredith Vocke and David Scott, receiving awards in Southern California juried shows.

Freehand Drawing - Ms. Judy Loper (624-8106) will begin Aug. 14 with morning classes for children ages 8 to 12. Ms. Loper is a graduate of Oklahoma University and a former teacher at the Oklahoma City Art Museum.

College Workshops - Ms. Ruth Jackson (622-6526) will teach morning classes starting Aug. 21. Ms. Jackson has studied at Scripps College, Mt. San Antonio College and UCLA. She is an active member of the National League of American Pen Women and the Pomona Art Association, and has studied under George DeBeeson, Robert George, Walter Mix and Richard Wright.

Monoprints - Basic classroom and professional techniques will be taught by Ms. Joyce Dobrobin (599-1003) starting Aug. 28.

Cal-Poly To Offer New Degree

The bachelor of arts degree in music will be offered for the first time by California State Polytechnic University, Pomona, beginning with the 1972-73 academic year, President Robert C. Kramer has announced.

The new degree program is designed to prepare students for professional careers in music, for advanced training and graduate studies in music, and for teaching music subjects in elementary and junior high schools. It is also expected to further enrich the cultural climate of the university community through concerts and recitals of artistic merit.

According to Philip R. Browne, chairman of the music department, the new music degree curricula will emphasize practical experience, requiring work in applied music and in ensemble performance, as well as in music theory, harmony and history.

In addition to the traditional choices of instrumental and vocal music, Browne says, the department is also planning emphases in composition, jazz and ethnomusicology (the study of world music cultures).

Browne feels that one of the strengths of the Cal Poly Department is that study emphases are backed by the professional experience of the faculty, as well as the faculty's traditional degree training. Faculty members of the department are either published composers or professionally performing musicians.

A distinctive feature of the new music program is a two-year, single, unified course -- structure of music -- which correlates the traditional disciplines of theory, harmony, counterpoint, form and analysis, and orchestration and composition.

According to Dr. Albert J. Aschenbrenner, dean of the School of Arts under which the music department operates, the department currently is serving 1300 students of the university. Fifty of these are declared music majors. The department plans to selectively admit 50 additional majors a year for the next four years.

Students interested in entering the bachelor of arts in music degree program must not only meet the general admission standards for the state university and colleges system, but also must satisfy the requirements of the music department in either instrumental or vocal music proficiency. Prospective majors will also be required to take a preliminary examination in piano.

Professional careers in music for which the degree program provides education include teaching of music in public and private institutions; professional performance and conducting, accompanying, composition and arranging; and the related fields of journalistic music criticism, music business operation, instrument repair, and community rehabilitation programs.

Classified personnel at Mt. San Antonio College will receive a 3 percent across the board salary increase beginning July 1 and some 130 classified positions will be reclassified at the same time. The changes were approved at the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Trustees held recently.

A two-year study of the various classified positions and duties culminated last month with the recommendation from Eugene Curl, assistant business manager, that these 130 positions be upgraded to more equitably correlate with similar positions in business and industry.

Tv: Day Care 'Shaping Willie Before He's Three'

"This is Willie," says the narrator. "Before he's three, he'll learn a way of seeing himself and the world."

And there is Willie's face, open and appealing, ready to be shaped by whatever forces the adult world brings to bear.

Sequences like these make the subject at hand—day-care centers—gripping and immediate as it takes shape on a 60-minute documentary special called "A Chance for a Lifetime." Narrated by E.C. Marshall, it's being aired this week or later at various times on Group W, stations and other outlets, as part of a series collectively titled "The Search for Quality Education."

If any current issue has been more overlaid with sociological jargon than day-care centers, it would be hard to think of. Yet this program manages to reveal the enormous human values at stake.

It does it by stressing the urgency of shaping attitudes in children of this age, by pointing out that these few early years are "one chance for one lifetime" for innumerable children whose parents aren't able to be at home.

Not long ago "The Advocates" on PBS debated a question about setting up a federally operated day-care system. Anyone who wanted to hear both sides on this question of social legislation could have gotten them—and in a lively way—from that show.

But to see what they were really talking about, you have to watch toddlers messing with finger paints under the patient eye of day-care workers. You have to view glimpses after glimpses of the happy busyness that—according to this study—forms the overall image of a day-care center.

There are revealing interviews with workers, and with mothers themselves who leave no doubt why local control and funding issues are far more than budget questions. You feel their incredulity over a pending congressional bill to limit the service to mothers in a special training program.

And the minute you begin to earn a living, explains one baffled mother, "you become ineligible."

Implicitly, the show is an argument for the existence of day-care centers, and one section exposes the anxiety of people over the fate of children already in them should a drastically reduced eligibility be enacted. But its primary service is the humanization of the question.

And the same is true of the other two programs in this series. First it was "Busing: Some Voices From the South." Next will come "Class...."

The busing show pictured a black social worker serving with a Ku Klux Klan leader on a committee to desegregate schools in Durham, N. C.

The next show claims that the most important influence on a child's education is not race, not per-pupil expenditure, but the social class of his schoolmates and family. Where the day-care show savors the subject matter itself, this one investigates rigorously.

You see vivid contrasts in reading skills between the hesitant "best readers" of the lowest-ranking school in Duluth, Minn., and one of the several fine readers in the highest-ranking school.

Stripped of gobbledegook, the two schools could be said to lie on the right and the wrong side of the tracks, and this production zeros in vividly on how far-reaching that difference can be.

"Class" is currently the forbidden word in educational circles, according to the show's producer-writer Dick Hubert, but he has effectively thrust the question to the fore.

Cameras follow Dick Pearson, assistant superintendent of schools, as he walks between Duluth's snowdrifts and talks of how "the world is far more open for kids growing up" in the better neighborhoods.

There before you eyes is a slick $6-million high school where "lower-class" children seem to go. It's a much better building than the high school where children of more affluent families study, yet "lack of intellectual stimulus from family and friends" is presented as holding the former back.

Parents, too, come in for some educating in the process of changing the artificial divisions in Duluth.

EVERY DOLLAR YOU SAVE IS A BOOST TO THE ECONOMY.

Some people would have you believe that saving money is a disservice to the economy of this country. Nothing could be further from the truth.

Your money is loaned out to build new homes and churches and shopping centers, and low-cost multiple dwellings.

And that means jobs. Jobs for carpenters, bricklayers, plumbers, road-builders, painters and a host of other occupations. Jobs for the people who cut the timber, make the bricks, manufacture the plumbing materials and paint.

The list is endless. It goes on and on. Your savings working to build the economy while they are building for your future.

It has been estimated that every dollar provided by a Savings and Loan creates four dollars of new economic activity. As a result, the $38 billion we loaned in mortgages last year generated $152 billion in the economy.

Do something good for yourself. Open an account at a Savings and Loan Association. We'll put your money to work—for you and for the country.

The foothills. A grand opening

Three new freeways have just reached the big country at the foot of the magnificent San Gabriel mountains. Today, within 30 minutes of downtown Los Angeles, you can put your family in a big new home among oak-studded hills, fragrant orchards and snow-capped mountains.

The Foothills . . . quiet, well-developed prestige communities, up out of the congestion . . . where schools are good and life worth living. Within these fine neighborhoods, Crowell/Leventhal has staked out grandly-sized lots averaging 10,000 sq. ft. or more . . . and on them has constructed homes that could cost you thousands of dollars more on the teeming plains. Homes that all include — as standard features — shake or tile roofs, fireplace, self-cleaning double-oven ranges, dishwashers and luxurious carpeting in living rooms, master bedrooms and halls.

Discover this hidden land, these hidden values today. Some of our communities are tucked away in the canyons, so it may take a few extra minutes to find us the first time. For your family's sake, it's worth it. Believe us.

$22,950/$24,940
Affordable

$200 MOVES YOU IN $160 PER MONTH — PRINCIPAL & INTEREST

Go $22,950 in a big way. PARK NORTH brings the traditional values of ownership to the renting family that really wants a home.

These are good-sized homes with the standard features usually found only in homes costing much more — 3 & 4 bedrooms, 2 car garages, thick cedar shake roofs, wood-burning fireplaces, built-ins, with dishwashers and disposal, luxurious carpeting in living room, master bedroom, and halls. All on your own level lot.

The costs tell the story. You CAN own your own home. Let Crowell/Leventhal make it possible.

While not everyone can afford a vacation in the mountains, or a tour to faraway places, almost everyone can afford a shade tree or two to make summer more enjoyable, and livable. So says the California Association of Nurserymen, which offers the remainder that summer shade trees are in good supply -- in great variety -- for planting right now.

When selecting shade trees, it is important to know how cold the winters are where you live -- and how much sunshine is desirable. Evergreen trees provide year-round shade, including winter. Depending upon the location, you may want to consider using deciduous trees -- which shed their leaves in winter and allow penetration of sun, and heat, in the colder months.

Whether trees are evergreen or deciduous, they all play an important role in the environment. In addition to beauty, shade, and climate control, the trees trap dirt particles from the air we breathe -- not to mention they provide oxygen for human consumption -- and serve as a natural "filtration system." Trees also reduce sound and lessen the city's noises which fry man's nerves.

Nurseries will offer the trees best-suited for local conditions and climate. This simplifies the selection process -- but a further consideration is choosing the right tree for the right place. Some shade trees may overgrow their bounds, unless you plan for them. If, in an existing garden, you have a restricted planting area, it would be best to plant a modest-growing deciduous Purple Leaf Plum or an evergreen Carolina Cherry. Evergreen Ash or deciduous Silver Maple -- both excellent shade trees -- would ultimately overgrow the area and cause more headaches than beauty.

It's easy to plant the right tree in the right place. Your nurseryman can assist you by recommending the varieties of trees that will fulfill your desires. You'll be surprised over the number of choices available. The best part is that the tree choices are as beautiful as they are utilitarian. In a wide, open area the Southern Magnolia is a breathtaking evergreen sight -- as in the distinctive, deciduous Chinese Pistache, which colors-up spectacularly in fall.

Plantsmen have introduced hybrids that have special characteristics. The fall-foliage colors of such hybrid Liquid-ambers as Palo Alto, Afterglow, and Burgundy have individual characteristics which defy description; the brilliance of color in hybrid Locusts is a sight to behold. All rate consideration in the California landscape -- where sufficient space will permit the trees to showcase their beauty.

Talk over your shade tree interests and needs with a local nurseryman. He'll have trees best-suited for the area. Certain varieties have just been introduced and you beauty that is available to may be seeing a tree for enhance the appearance of the first time. Let your your property -- and the nurseryman show you the quality of the environment.

Jeane Dixon of Washington, D.C., considered to be the foremost psychic in the land today, will appear at Hollywood Bowl Sunday night, July 9. Mrs. Dixon will give some new, momentous predictions about the future, including current events and their influence on the future. In addition, Mrs. Dixon will answer written questions from the audience. She will be in Los Angeles two weeks each morning, June 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, for a morning press conference at the Ambassador Hotel and an appearance that night on a network television show.

Prominent in social, government and business circles in the nation's capital, Mrs. Dixon had predicted the assassination of President John F. Kennedy four years before it occurred; Senator Edward Kennedy's near-fatal plane crash, Marilyn Monroe's suicide and earlier, the airplane deaths of Carole Lombard and the United Nations' Dag Hammarskjöld. The list of her important prophecies is not only remarkable but endless.

Seats for Jeane Dixon's Hollywood Bowl appearance July 9 are now on sale at the Bowl box office and all Southland ticket agencies.

FISHING

A View From The Angler's Net

Californians are hooked on fishing.

The increasing popularity of the sport is evident in statistics released recently by an area bank. These statistics indicate that in the last 10 years licensed fishermen in the state have increased almost three times as fast as the state's population.

In the 10 years prior to that, both the number of fishermen and the population grew at equal rates.

The bank reports that from 1962 to 1972 the number of sportsmen buying fishing licenses in California increased by 60 percent, while the state's population gained only 21 percent.

In the previous 10 years, 1952 - 1962, the number of California fishermen increased by 46 percent. That was virtually the same as the population gain of 45 percent recorded for the period.

The bank predicts that this year about 2.4 million sportsmen will buy licenses to fish in California waters, compared to 1.5 million 10 years ago and 1 million 20 years ago.

The bank says this rapidly developing interest in fishing is another indicator pointing to the rising importance of leisure-time related businesses. For instance, registered pleasure boats, which to a large extent are used for fishing, have also increased three times as fast as California's population over the last 10 years.

Spurring the purchase of recreational equipment and supplies, fishing today has attained stature as a major recreational industry in the state.

Several factors account for this: gains in personal income, longer vacations, more three-day holidays, the four-day work week movement, early retirement and the trend toward "getting back to nature."

There are now 116 fishermen per 1,000 population, compared to 88 10 years ago. About one-third of all anglers in California concentrate on freshwater fishing. But more than half fish in the ocean at least once a year.

The bank said deep-sea fishing has entered the realm of big business, with partyboats luring sportsmen with the prospect of netting the big fish. Many of these vessels, which take anglers out for a day's excursion, carry quantities of bait, selection of fishing tackle, individual berths, food and crew members to aid fishermen.

California has about 450 registered partyboats. More than 800,000 anglers sail aboard them and land around 5 million fish annually.
